

COL•COA MASTERCLASS

The first COL•COA master class will take place on April 21st, 2010 at 3:00pm in the theater complex of the Directors Guild of America, 7920 Sunset Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90046.

The master class will consist of a premiere screening of a brand new French film, followed by a conversation with the filmmaker. The film will be selected by February 2010 at the latest and will be presented in French with English subtitles.

This screening is open to all students of a higher education institution. Admission is free. Each school will be responsible for transportation of its students and insurance issues pertaining to this off-campus field trip.

Please reserve your seats now by contacting us at school@colcoa.org and mention:

- Where you teach
- How many students plan to attend with you.

Please note that reservations need to be made by a professor. Students may not RSVP individually.

The 14th annual COL•COA Festival, "A Week of French Film Premieres in Hollywood" will take place April 19-25, 2010. For more information go to www.colcoa.org

This educational program is produced by COL•COA, with the support of California Language Teachers Association (CLTA/MCLASC), American Association of Teachers of French-Southern California (AATF-SC) and the Film & TV Office of the French Embassy in Los Angeles. In turn, COL•COA is sponsored by the Franco-American Cultural Fund (FACF), an international entertainment partnership between the Directors Guild of America (DGA), the Motion Picture Association (MPA), Société des Auteurs, Compositeurs, et Éditeurs de Musique (SACEM), and Writers Guild of America, West (WGAW).
